

Graduate Program: TESOL

Program and School	NYU's TESOL program
Program Specialties	TESOL courses focus on pedagogical alternatives, applied linguistics, and field experiences that enable students to obtain a sense of the extra academic environment in which they will function.
Courses to Take	Linguistic analysis, Structure of American English, Field Work in schools and other educational settings, Inquiries into teaching and learning III, Adolescent development, Educating students with disabilities in middle childhood & adolescent settings, Multicultural/bilingual education: Theory and practice OR (required), Intercultural perspectives in multilingual multicultural education, Teaching second language across content areas, Second language acquisition and research (required), Second language evaluation and assessment, Teaching second language in a technological society, Linguistics, literacy, and bilingualism, Workshop in teaching foreign languages, Teaching second languages: Theory and practice, Second language classroom: Elementary and secondary schools, Student teaching in second languages: K – 6, Student teaching in second languages: 7 –12, Social responsibility of teachers/ School violence prevention, Individual advanced project in MMS, Culminating experience seminar in MMS

(Note: This is used for mock job/graduate school interview [educational purposes] in Dept. of ENG, FJU)