

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

Writing research papers : a complete guide / James D. Lester, James Lester, Jr.

Table of contents, 15th Ed.

---

Preface

Chapter 1 Introduction to Academic Writing

- 1a Why Do Research?
- 1b Learning The Conventions of Academic Writing
- 1c Understanding and Avoiding Plagiarism
- 1d Understanding a Research Assignment
  - Understanding the Terminology
- 1e Establishing a Research Schedule

Chapter 2 Topic Selection

- 2a Relating Your Personal Ideas to a Scholarly Problem
  - Connecting Personal Experience to Scholarly Topics
  - Speculating about Your Subject to Discover Ideas and to Focus on the Issues
- 2b Talking with Others to Find and Refine the Topic
  - Personal Interviews and Discussions
  - Online Discussion Groups
- 2c Using Online Searches to Refine Your Topic
  - Using an Online Subject Directory
  - Using an Internet Keyword Search
- 2d Using the Library's Electronic Databases to Find and Narrow a Subject
- 2e Using the Library's Electronic Book Catalog to Find a Topic
- 2f Developing a Thesis Statement, Enthymeme, or Hypothesis
- 2g Drafting a Research Proposal
  - The Short Proposal
  - The Long Proposal

Your Research Project

Chapter 3 Organizing Ideas and Setting Goals

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

- 3a Using a Basic Order to Chart the Course of Your Work
- 3b Using Your Research Proposal to Direct Your Notetaking
- 3c Listing Key Terms and Phrases to Set Directions for Notetaking
- 3d Writing a Rough Outline
- 3e Using Questions to Identify Issues
- 3f Setting Goals by Using Organizational Patterns
- 3g Using Approaches across the Curriculum to Chart Your Ideas
- 3h Using Your Thesis to Chart the Direction of Your Research

Your Research Project

Chapter 4 Finding Web-Based Resources

- 4a Beginning an Online Search
  - CHECKLIST: Evaluating Internet Sources
- 4b Reading an Online Address
- 4c Using Keyword and Boolean Expressions
  - Subject Directory Search Engines
  - Robot-Driven Search Engines
  - Metasearch Engines
  - Specialized Search Engines
  - Educational Search Engines
  - Educational Search Engines Maintained by Libraries
- 4d Using RSS and Social Bookmarking
  - RSS Feeds
  - Web and Social Bookmarking
- 4e Searching for Articles in Journals and Magazines
  - Online journals
  - Online Magazines
- 4f Searching for Articles in Newspapers and Media Sources
- 4g Searching for Photographs and Other Visual Sources
- 4h Accessing E-Books
- 4i Using Listserv, Usenet, Blogs, and Chat Groups
  - E-mail News Groups
  - Real-Time Chatting
- 4j Examining Library Holdings via Online Access

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

4k Finding an Internet Bibliography

4l Conducting Archival Research on the Internet

Go to the Library

Go to an Edited Search Engine

Go to a Metasearch Engine

Go to a Listserv or Usenet Group

Utilize Newspaper Archives

Your Research Project

Chapter 5 Using Library Resources

5a Launching the Search

5b Developing a Working Bibliography

5c Finding Books on Your Topic

Using Your Library's Electronic Book Catalog

Using the Library's Bibliographies

5d Finding Articles in Magazines and Journals

Searching the General Indexes to Periodicals

Finding Indexes by Topic in Appendix B

Readers' Guide to Periodical Literature

Social Sciences Index

Humanities Index

Searching for an Index to Abstracts

Searching for Abstracts of Dissertations

5e Searching for a Biography

Biography Index

Current Biography Yearbook

Contemporary Authors

Dictionary of Literary Biography

5f Searching for Articles in the Newspaper Indexes

5g Searching Special Subject Directories

5h Searching for Government Documents

5i Searching for Essays within Books

Your Research Project

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

Chapter 6 Conducting Field Research

6a Investigating Local Sources

- Interviewing Knowledgeable People
- Writing Letters and Corresponding by E-mail
- Reading Personal Papers
- Attending Lectures and Public Addresses

6b Investigating Government Documents

6c Examining Audiovisual Materials, Television, and Radio

6d Conducting a Survey with a Questionnaire

6e Conducting Experiments, Tests, and Observation

Your Research Project

Chapter 7 Understanding Plagiarism and How to Avoid it

7a Using Sources to Enhance your Credibility

7b Placing Your Work in Its Proper Context

7c Understanding Copyright

7d Avoiding Plagiarism

- Common Knowledge
- Correctly Borrowing from a Source

7e Sharing Credit in Collaborative Projects

7f Honoring and Crediting Sources in Online Classrooms

7g Seeking Permission to Publish Material on Your Web Site

Your Research Project

Chapter 8 Reading and Evaluating Sources

8a Finding Reliable Sources

8b Selecting a Mix of both Primary and Secondary Sources

8c Evaluating Sources

- Evaluating the Key Parts of an Article
- Evaluating the Key Parts of a Book
- Evaluating the Key Parts of an Internet Article

8d Outlining a Source

8e Summarizing a Source

8f Preparing an Annotated Bibliography

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

8g Preparing a Review of the Literature on a Topic

Your Research Project

Chapter 9 Developing Outlines and Writing Effective Notes

Gathering Printouts, Photocopies, Scanned Images, and Downloaded Data

Writing Notes of High Quality

9a Creating Effective Notes

Honoring the Conventions of Research Style

Using a Computer for Notetaking

9b Writing Personal Notes

9c Writing Direct Quotation Notes

Quoting Primary Sources

Quoting Secondary Sources

9d Writing Paraphrased Notes

9e Writing Summary Notes

9f Writing Précis Notes

Use the Précis to Review Briefly an Article or Book

Use the Précis to Write an Annotated Bibliography

Use the Précis in a Plot Summary Note

Use the Précis As the Form for an Abstract

9g Writing Notes from Field Research

9h Creating Outlines Using Academic Models

A General All-Purpose Model

Model for Advancing Your Ideas and Theories

Model for the Analysis of Creative Works

Model for Argument and Persuasion Papers

Model for Analysis of History

Model for a Comparative Study

9i Writing a Formal Outline

Using Standard Outline Symbols

Writing a Formal Topic Outline

Writing a Formal Sentence Outline

Your Research Project

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

Chapter 10 Drafting the Paper in an Academic Style

10a Focusing Your Argument

Maintaining a Focus on Objective Facts and Subjective

Ideas

10b Refining the Thesis Statement

Using Questions to Focus the Thesis

Adjust or Change Your Thesis during Research if Necessary

10c Writing an Academic Title

10d Drafting the Paper from Your Research Journal, Notes, and Computer Files

Writing from Your Notes

Writing with Unity and Coherence

Writing in the Proper Tense

Using the Language of the Discipline

Using Source Material to Enhance Your Writing

Writing in the Third Person

Writing with the Passive Voice in an Appropriate Manner

10e Using Visuals Effectively in a Research Essay

File Formats

10f Avoiding Sexist and Biased Language

Your Research Project

Chapter 11 MLA Style: In-Text References

11a Blending Reference Citations into Your Text

Making a General Reference without a Page Number

Beginning with the Author and Ending with a Page Number

Putting the Page Number Immediately after the Name

Putting the Name and Page Number at the End of Borrowed Material

11b Citing a Source When No Author Is Listed

Citing the Title of a Magazine Article

Citing the Title of a Report

Citing the Name of a Publisher or a Corporate Body

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

- 11c Citing Nonprint Sources That Have No Page Number
- 11d Citing Internet Sources
  - Identify the Source with Name or Title
  - Identify the Nature of the Information and Its Credibility
  - Omitting Page and Paragraph Numbers to Internet Citations
- 11e Citing Indirect Sources
- 11f Citing Frequent Page References to the Same Work
- 11g Citing Material from Textbooks and Large Anthologies
- 11h Adding Extra Information to In-text Citations
  - One of Several Volumes
  - Two or More Works by the Same Writer
  - Several Authors in One Citation
  - Additional Information with the Page Number
- 11i Punctuating Citations Properly and With Consistency
  - Commas and Periods
  - Semicolons and Colons
  - Question Marks and Exclamation Marks
  - Single Quotation Marks
- 11j Indenting Long Quotations
- 11k Citing Poetry
  - Quoting Two Lines of Poetry or Less
  - Quoting Three Lines of Poetry or More
  - Indenting Turnovers for Long Lines of Poetry
  - Retaining Internal Quotations within a Block
  - Providing Translations
- 11l Handling Quotations from a Play
- 11m Altering Initial Capitals in Some Quoted Matter
- 11n Omitting Quoted Matter with Ellipsis Points
- 11o Altering Quotations with Parentheses and Brackets
  - Parentheses
  - Brackets

Your Research Project

Chapter 12 Writing the Introduction, Body, and Conclusion

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

12a Writing the Introduction of the Paper

Provide the Thesis Statement

Provide the Enthymeme

Provide a Hypothesis

Relate to the Well Known

Provide Background Information

Review the Literature

Review the History and Background of the Subject

Take Exception to Critical Views

Challenge an Assumption

Provide a Brief Summary

Define Key Terms

Supply Data, Statistics, and Special Evidence

12b Writing the Body of the Research Paper

Organize by Chronology

Compare or Contrast Issues, Critical Views, and Literary

Characters

Develop Cause and Effect

Define Your Key Terminology

Explain a Process

Ask Questions and Provide Answers

Cite Evidence from the Source Materials

Use a Variety of Other Methods

12c Writing the Conclusion of the Research Paper

Restate the Thesis and Reach beyond It

Close With an Effective Quotation

Return the Focus of a Literary Study to the Author

Compare the Past to the Present

Offer a Directive or Solution

Discuss Test Results

Your Research Project

Chapter 13 Revising, Proofreading, and Formatting the Rough Draft

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

13a Conducting a Global Revision

Revising the Introduction

Revising the Body

Revising the Conclusion

Participating in Peer Review

13b Formatting the Paper to MLA Style

Title Page or Opening Page

Outline

Abstract

The Text of the Paper

Content Endnotes Page

Appendix

Works Cited

13c Editing Before Typing or Printing the Final Manuscript

Using the Computer to Edit Your Text

13d Proofreading on the Screen and on the Printed Manuscript

Your Research Project

13e Sample Research Papers in MLA Style

Short Literary Research Paper

Sample Research Paper

Chapter 14 MLA Style: Citations

14a Formatting the Works Cited Page

Index to Works Cited Models: MLA STYLE

14b Works Cited Form – Internet Sources

14c Works Cited Form – Citing Database and CD-ROM Sources

Other Electronic Sources

14d Works Cited Form – Books

14e Works Cited Form – Periodicals

14f Works Cited Form – Newspapers

14g Works Cited Form – Government Documents

14h Works Cited Form – Other Sources

Chapter 15 Using the APA Style

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

15a Writing Theory, Reporting Test Results, or Reviewing Literature

Theoretical Article

Report of an Empirical Study

Review Article

15b Writing in the Proper Tense for an APA Research Paper

15c Using In-text Citations in APA Style

15d Preparing the List of References

Index to Bibliographic Models: APA style

Book

Periodical

Abstract

Review

Report

Nonprint Material

Internet Sources

World Wide Web Sites

Article from a Library Database

CD-ROM

15e Formatting an APA Paper

Theoretical Article

Report of Empirical Research

Review Article

15f Writing the Abstract

15g Sample Paper in APA Style

Chapter 16 CMS Style: The Footnote System:

16a Inserting a Superscript Numeral in Your Text

16b Formatting and Writing the Footnotes

16c Writing Footnotes for Electronic Sources

16d Writing Subsequent Footnote References

16e Writing Endnotes rather than Footnotes

16f Writing Content Footnotes or Content Endnotes

16g Using the Footnote System for Papers in the Humanities

16h Writing a Bibliography Page for a Paper That Uses Footnotes

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

16i Sample Research Paper in the CMS Style

Chapter 17 CSE Style: Citations for Technical Writing

Index to Bibliographic Models: CSE style

Guide by Discipline

17a Writing In-Text Citations Using the CSE Citation-Sequence System

17b Writing a Reference Page

17c Writing In-Text Citations with Name and Year

17d Using Name-Year with Bibliography Entries

17e Sample Paper Using the CSE Citation-Sequence System

Chapter 18 Creating Electronic and Multimedia Research Projects

18a Beginning the Electronic Project

18b Building Electronic Presentations

18c Research Paper Web Pages and Sites

Creating a Single Web Page

Importing, Entering, and Modifying Text

Citing Your Sources in a Web Research Paper

18d Using Graphics in Your Electronic Research Paper

Graphic File Formats

Creating Your Own Digital Graphics

18e Using Sound and Video in Your Electronic Research Paper

18f Preparing a Writing Portfolio

18g Presenting Research in Alternative Formats

Your Research Project

Appendix A Glossary: Rules and Techniques for Preparing the Manuscript in MLA Style

Appendix B Finding Reference Works for Your General Topic

Historic Issues of Events, People, and Artifacts

Scientific Issues in Physics, Astronomy, and Engineering

Issues of Health, Fitness, and Athletics

Social and Political Issues

Research Methodology

Spring, 2019

Issues in the Arts, Literature, Music, and Language

Environmental Issues, Genetics, and the Earth Sciences

Issues in Communication and Information Technology

Issues in Religion, Philosophy, and Psychology

Issues in Business and Economics

Popular Culture, Current Events, and Modern Trends

Credits

Index